

4070-T Jumbo Glass

The Series 4070-T was designed well ahead of the North American glass industry's evolution into mega size insulated glass (70 square feet with Guardian, up to 89 square feet with Cardinal). Though some insulated glass fabricators provide jumbo glass, only a few meet the high standards required by Fleetwood. With common glass standards, customers must accept flaws unless they can see them clearly from 10' away under diffused light. In contrast, Fleetwood demands its suppliers meet a 5' inspection standard.

Fleetwood can provide the glass noted in the section below titled Factory Provided Glass. It is only a summary but covers the most popular categories. Contact an Authorized Dealer in your area for a more thorough list.

Limited factory choices do not restrict dealers or customers from buying/installing their own sourced glass. If this requires Fleetwood to support these glass products with energy test results, i.e. NFRC U-Factor, dealers can make a formal request for factory glass testing. Because each glass test costs $400, we provide a short list below titled Factory Supported Glass. Fleetwood and its dealer are willing to run energy tests on suggested glass, and credit the testing cost when the order is placed for the windows or doors.
